StudyBuddy

USER PERSONAS & JOURNEY MAPPING

A study companion concept that helps learners plan, learn and stay on track.

PROJECT FOCUS

Two illustrative personas and their journey from discovering the app to completing a study task, with pain points and UX opportunities at each stage.

01 USER PERSONAS

Aisha Khan

High school student · 16

GOAL Improve grades and stay organized with a manageable study schedule.

BEHAVIORS
- Uses a smartphone daily
- Gets distracted; likes visual, game-like learning
- Prefers simple, free tools

"I want a simple way to plan my studies and stay motivated."

Rohan Mehta

College student · 20

GOAL Prepare for exams and manage several subjects without losing track of progress.

BEHAVIORS
- Uses laptop and phone
- Balances classes, assignments and personal life
- Values progress tracking and clear analytics

"I need a tool that helps me track progress and stay accountable."

02 USER JOURNEY MAP

Illustrative journey · validate with real users where possible

	1. DISCOVERY Finds the app	2. ONBOARDING Creates profile	3. PLANNING Sets study goals	4. LEARNING Uses study tools	5. TRACKING Checks progress	6. COMPLETION Finishes a task
AISHA High school A	ACTION Finds the app via a friend or social post. PAIN POINT Unclear what makes it different. UX OPPORTUNITY Show a clear value proposition and short demo.	ACTION Creates an account and chooses subjects. PAIN POINT Too many fields may feel tiring. UX OPPORTUNITY Offer quick sign-up and optional setup.	ACTION Sets goals and a weekly schedule. PAIN POINT May set unrealistic goals. UX OPPORTUNITY Provide starter plans and gentle suggestions.	ACTION Uses flashcards, quizzes and notes. PAIN POINT May get distracted or overwhelmed. UX OPPORTUNITY Keep sessions focused and content bite-sized.	ACTION Checks daily progress and rewards. PAIN POINT May forget to review progress. UX OPPORTUNITY Use helpful reminders and visual progress.	ACTION Completes a study goal for the day. PAIN POINT Motivation may fade over time. UX OPPORTUNITY Celebrate milestones and suggest a next step.
ROHAN College R	ACTION Discovers it through search or college peers. PAIN POINT Unsure whether it is trustworthy. UX OPPORTUNITY Explain key features and privacy clearly.	ACTION Signs up and adds subjects or exam dates. PAIN POINT Entering details may take too long. UX OPPORTUNITY Support quick setup and editable subject lists.	ACTION Builds a plan around classes and exams. PAIN POINT Hard to balance a realistic workload. UX OPPORTUNITY Suggest a flexible plan with adjustable time.	ACTION Uses lessons, practice tests and notes. PAIN POINT Too much content can feel overwhelming. UX OPPORTUNITY Personalize resources by subject and level.	ACTION Reviews reports and weak areas. PAIN POINT May not know what to improve next. UX OPPORTUNITY Turn progress into clear, actionable advice.	ACTION Completes a study task and reviews results. PAIN POINT Needs motivation to stay consistent. UX OPPORTUNITY Show meaningful progress and next actions.

KEY UX TAKEAWAYS

- Prioritize simple onboarding and clear navigation.
- Use flexible plans, focused learning sessions and useful reminders.
- Make progress visible; personalize suggestions and celebrate milestones.

Concept personas, not verified research findings.